

Submission of Abstracts and Papers, User Rights Agreement

The Author(s) are submitting papers, abstracts, author names, diagrams, and other data (defined as the "Submission") to the International Health Economics Association, "IHEA," for inclusion in IHEA's conference. As part of the conference this Submission may be included, and/or made available in the online conference website, printed conference documents or other online, print or electronic mediums. After the conference accepted Submissions will be archived and distributed as a participating Submission of the IHEA Conference. All authors have the right to request, in writing, that the paper be unavailable to online access after the conclusion of the conference. However, the Title, Keywords, List of Authors, Abstract and Disclosure statement will still be available. In order for IHEA to make use of the Submission the Author(s) must grant certain rights and privileges to IHEA and its "Affiliates" which include All Academic, Inc. and sub-licensees of All Academic, Inc.

Note: An Author submitting a paper to this conference retains the right to publish this work in a journal or other publication without limitation by IHEA or Affiliates, and the author also maintains copyright and other rights as defined below.

Author Rights Statement. In making this Submission to the conference the Author(s) shall have certain rights. The Author(s), and in the case of a Work Made For Hire, as defined in the U.S. Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C Sec 101, the employer, shall have the following rights (the "Author Rights"):

1. The right to use all or part of the Submission with or without revision or modification, in compilations or other publications of the Author(s) and/or the employer's own works, including the Author(s), and/or the employer's use for lecture or classroom purposes.
2. The nonexclusive right, to give permission to third parties to republish the Submission or a translation thereof, or excerpts therefrom, without obtaining permission from IHEA or its Affiliates.
3. All proprietary rights other than copyright, such as patent rights.
4. The right to request, in writing, that the paper be unavailable to online access after the conclusion of the conference.

The Author(s) hereby grant to the IHEA and its Affiliates, a non-exclusive, royalty-free, transferable license to reproduce, distribute, create derivative works from, publicly perform, and publicly display the Submission in all languages, in whole or in part, to end-users through the direct online or print publishing, re-license or sale of information products including but not limited to all formats of print, magnetic digital, CD-ROM, tape, online hosts, internet services and other electronic, laser, or optical media or other formats now known or hereafter discovered. IHEA and its Affiliates shall have the right to register copyright to the Submission and the accompanying abstract in their name as claimant as part of the conference proceedings or other medium in which such Submission is included. Furthermore, the Author(s) agree to execute any documents as IHEA and its Affiliates may reasonably request in confirmation of the foregoing.

The Author(s) also hereby agree that IHEA and its Affiliates may edit or otherwise change the Submission, its title and abstract. The Author(s) also hereby agree that IHEA and its Affiliates may use his/her name(s) in connection with promoting or advertising the Submission and any adaptation thereof, in the publication or medium in which the Submission is included.

The Author(s) also understand that IHEA does not pay Authors for their work. IHEA may, however, directly or indirectly profit from Authors' work by offering it as part of a collective whole, an individual Submission, or any work in which it was published, for sale in any one of the above listed formats. IHEA makes no agreements, either publicly or in private, to pay or share profits in any form with its Submitters. Any profits benefited from the sales of Submissions go to IHEA and its Affiliates.

The Author(s) warrant that, to the best of the Author(s) knowledge, belief and expertise:

1. Author(s) are the sole Author(s) and holder(s) of all rights, in both written and electronic form, and in any other form of sending and transmitting data, including those not in existence at the time of this agreement, in and to the Submission;
2. The Submission does not violate or infringe on any personal or property rights of others, including, but not limited to, patent and trademark rights, whether common law or statutory;
3. The Submission contains nothing libelous or contrary to law;
4. The Submission does not violate any other party's right to privacy or publicity;
5. Any scientific knowledge contained in the Submission is true and accurate; and
6. The Submission contains no material from other Copyrighted or unpublished works that has been used without the written consent of the copyright owner and/or the owner of any other rights to or in such other works that the Author(s) will obtain any such written consent as required and will deliver the consent to IHEA and its Affiliates.

The Author(s) agree to reimburse IHEA and its Affiliates for all losses, damages, and/or expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) that IHEA and its Affiliates may incur due to breach of the above warranties.

The Submitting Author represents that they agree to this Agreement as authorized agent for and on behalf of all of the Authors, and that this agreement and authorization is made on behalf of all the Authors. The acknowledging Author also represent and warrant that they have the full power to enter into this Agreement and to make the grants contained herein.

US Government Authors: If the Author(s) are or were officers or employees of the US Government at the time the Submission was prepared and the Submission was prepared as part of their official duties, the agreeing Author represents that the Submission is not subject to US copyright protection.